THE GAVEL - Holiday Celebrations have arrived – tinsel, lights, and lots of goodies! You – our AESC members - will be hosting, attending and celebrating at events all over the world in the coming weeks. If you take a few moments to consider those in attendance at your events, I am certain you will recognize a few Angels. They are the individuals who were instrumental in the planning and coordination weeks in advance, and arrived a few hours early to set up. They are constantly scanning the room to ensure that everyone has a plate, a full glass, and a friendly greeting. They are the ones who warmly welcome first time guests and personally introduce them to others. They are the guests who, no matter how early they got up or how long they've worked, arrive with a smile of appreciation knowing the hosts have most likely had a more challenging day than theirs. Angels who are seldom in front of the audience as they do most of their work behind the scenes.

AESC has a wonderful group of Angels who volunteer for our organization on a daily basis. Most of them have paying jobs, but sometimes they put in the almost the same amount of hours for AESC. They are quiet professionals who do not seek reward as they love the opportunity to serve our Engineer community by sharing their talents. They don't all live in DC. Some have served on numerous boards, for others this is a first time experience. They are the foundation of our organization. The Engineer Angels I refer to are those who serve on the Army Engineer Spouses' Club Executive Board. I appreciate them and their service. I know you do as well.

Who are the Engineer Angels in your community? Take a few moments to let them know you recognize their commitment. Just a whisper in the ear can mean the world to someone. Perhaps you are the one with wings on your back? Keep going, stay the course, don't stop ... the Engineer community needs you and your energy! I hope your holiday is filled spending time with loving family and friends ... and a few Angels!

Warmly, Connie

“Keeping our worldwide Engineer family connected through the years and across the miles”

AEMA

It's Time! Our Army Engineer Memorial Awards process has begun! The AEMA application is now on our website. Applications were open December 1, 2015 and will close March 1, 2016.

www.armyengineerspouses.com/army-engineer-memorial-awards-aema

The Army Engineer Memorial Awards were established in 1967 as a living memorial to Engineer Officers killed in Vietnam and are given annually to honor all Engineer Officers who died in the line of duty. A candidate for an award may be any graduating high school senior who is a citizen of the United States and whose sponsor, parent, or legal guardian is a U.S. Army Engineer (active duty, retired or deceased), National Guard U.S. Army Engineer, Reserve U. S. Army Engineer, or current Department of the Army employee of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), as well as a current member of the Army Engineer Spouses Club. The merit based awards are open to students in all fields of study and are based on academic and extracurricular achievement during high school. All monies awarded must be applied toward tuition or scholastic expenses at a college, university, technical or vocational school.

The Army Engineer Spouses' Club, through efforts of its membership and outside contributors, has established a permanent fund for the perpetuation of the Army Engineer Memorial Award. Individuals may make a tax-deductible contribution to this fund, either as a gift or as a memorial. Please click here to make a donation.

Facts About the Geraldine K. Morris Award

- First award given in 2007 to Courtney Huron
- Awardees must plan to pursue a nursing degree or certification
- Winners receive $1000 per year for four years
- Students must maintain a GPA of 2.75 or better
- Students must submit a letter to AEMA stating their GPA and that they are in good standing with their school

Geraldine K. Morris Award

In 2006, the Geraldine K Morris Award was established. Mrs. Morris served as an Army nurse, was Honorary President of the Army Engineer Spouses' Club and wife of the 44th Chief of Engineers, LTG (Ret) John Morris. (July 1976-September 1980). A candidate for this merit based award may be any qualified graduating high school senior who intends to enroll in a program leading to a nursing degree or certification. This award will be renewable based on the student's GPA and their maintaining full-time enrollment in a nursing program.

From Mrs. Morris's Legacy Page:

Geraldine King Morris, 85, died Tuesday 28 March 2006 at Davis Health Care Center ending 5 years of being severely handicapped by a major stroke.

Born in Wilmington on 23 November 1920 to Harry and Anna King. She attended Summer Hill Elementary School and New Hanover High School where she was a most popular and active student. In her yearbook she was described as one who "listened to everyone's advice and then did it her own way." Upon completing High School, Gerry attended James Walker Nurses Training and after three years was an accredited registered Nurse in a profession of which she was proud and remained proficient in all her life. In later years, when introduced, as "she was a nurse" her retort was "I am a nurse."

In January 1942 she married Lieutenant William Ludwig an Army Air Corps Pilot, later killed in action in 1944 in Italy. Immediately thereafter she joined the Army Nurse Corps as a flight nurse and was ultimately assigned to Fort McKinley near Manila, Philippines. There in April 1946 she met Captain John W. Morris. After her discharge from the Army, they were married on 12 May 1947 in St. John's Episcopal Church in downtown Wilmington.

Thus began 59 years of marriage, including over 33 years as an Army wife, mother, and strong helper as her husband advanced to become the 44th Chief of Engineers of the Army Corps of Engineers. These Army years and those that followed gave her frequent travel opportunities throughout the world. She was always an attractive and effective representative of the Army and the United States.

Award Recipient Update

We LOVE hearing from our award winners! Abby Fenn is a 2015 AEMA Award Recipient attending University of Pittsburgh. Abby was awarded $1000. Abby attended Osbourn Park High School in Manassas where she was involved in the National Honors Society, Girl Scouts, and Key Club among many other activities. She was a dancer with the Manassas Ballet Academy's Professional Division. Abby was recently accepted in the Air Force ROTC program with a scholarship and was awarded "Cadet of the Month" in October.

Dear AEMA Members and Scholarship Committee,

I would like to sincerely thank you for awarding me with the Army Engineer Memorial Award and scholarship. This scholarship will help pay for my tuition, housing, and books. I appreciate all the effort that went into reviewing the scholarship packets for the recipients. Thank you for all the volunteer hours that went into raising this money through your organization. I am looking forward to a successful four years at the University of Pittsburgh. This scholarship will help me get off to a great start!

Sincerely,

Abby Fenn

Protocol Points to Ponder

Do you have a protocol question we can address here in Protocol Points to Ponder? Please send it my way at newsletter@armyengineerspouses.com. Here are a few questions from an inquisitive reader:

“We just went to dinner at my spouse’s boss’s house. I can’t entertain like they did and my house looks like a shack compared to theirs. Do I HAVE to invite them to my house?”

In the course of your military life, and especially as you become more senior, you will receive many invitations to social events, both military and civilian. If you are invited to dinner at the home of your boss, remember that they have been entertaining for many more years than you have. Over the years in the military, they have developed a style that is comfortable for them. Do not be afraid to reciprocate with an invitation because your “picnic in the back yard with the kids” might fall short. Your leadership will be happy for the chance to get to know you better in any setting.

“My husband calls his boss by rank or “Ma’am”. She’s not my boss, but she hasn’t ask me to call her by her first name – should I do it anyway?”

You should always address senior officers and their spouses as —LTC Smith or —Mr./Mrs. Smith until they ask you to do otherwise. If your husband’s boss desires that you call her by her first name, she will tell you. Do not take the liberty until then. If you are asked to use a first name, it is polite to do so.

“Where do we get the saying ‘Mind your Ps and Qs?’

There are several different theories, and no definite proof of the derivations of this term meant to remind you to mind your manners. However, the most popular theory suggests the “Ps and Qs” is short for “pleases” and “thank yous.” or even “please” and “excuse”. The latter part of those phrases making the Q sounds.

Do You Know.....

...that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is a participating agency in the Every Kid in a Park Program? President Obama created Every Kid in a Park so fourth graders and their families could discover our wildlife, resources, and history for free. Just go to www.everykidinapark.gov and print your pass. The pass is for U.S. 4th grade students (or home school equivalent) and expires August 31, 2016. Educators can get one pass for each of their 4th grade students.

Once you print your pass, just show it to the Park Ranger when you enter the park. If there is no Ranger, just leave it on the dashboard. If the park charges an entrance fee, the pass admits all children under 16 and up to three adults for free. Same goes for parks that charge vehicle fees.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has more recreation visits than any other government group - more than 350 million every year. You can swim, boat, fish, hike and ride horses. See how dams and river locks are built. Even drive a barge or boat through a lock on a major river. Start your adventure at www.corpslakes.us.

The other participating agencies are:

- U.S. Bureau of Land Management
- U.S. Bureau of Reclamation
- National Oceanic & Atmospheric Administration
- National Park Service
- U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service
- U.S. Forest Service

Introducing
Jessica Gregris
Treasurer

Jessica is in charge of tracking the AESC finances. She reports our balance and major income and expenses each month to the board. She tracks the fees we pay out to places like Paypal and ensures we have an accurate account of our income. Jessica works closely with the Castle Boutique to ensure they have the inventory they need (as well as stay within their budget!), Membership to keep track of dues paid, and AEMA to transfer funds we raise to our awards fund.

Family: Married to LTC Mark Gregris, stepson is Zachary who is in his third year of college at Western Michigan University, and our daughter Morgan is a precocious four year old in pre-K.

How many places have you called home?

Too many. I think I'm at 17 now. I moved a lot as a kid and then I joined the Army in 1989.

In the spirit of "Bloom where you are planted", what was your favorite thing about your least favorite duty station? I haven't disliked anywhere I've been and have always found unique things to enjoy at every duty station.

What song is playing on your radio? Lately I've been tuning into country music which is probably because I went to a Toby Keith concert at the end of the summer.

What's for dinner tonight? Whatever my hubby wants to make. My husband likes to cook and I like him to cook too!

What's the last game you played? While visiting my parents in Texas my father and I played backgammon. Of course, I'm always up for chutes and ladders, hi-ho cherry-oh, etc (gotta love life with a four year old).

What's one thing we would be surprised to learn about you? I am actually a Lieutenant Colonel in the Army too. I keep asking my husband when he is going to join the Army Signal Spouses Club.

Is there anything else you'd like to tell us? We enjoy scuba diving (in warm water) but only get a couple of opportunities a year to indulge in our hobby.

11th Engineer Battalion Deactivation

by Laura Putnam

It was an extremely hot Fort Benning summer afternoon in July. We just returned back from block leave where we visited family and friends in a whirlwind span of just two weeks. You've all been there and know the exhaustion. I was getting the house back together and listening to the local news on TV when all of a sudden I hear "Up next, 3rd Brigade, 3rd Infantry Division at Fort Benning will deactivate..." I immediately stopped what I was doing and paid attention. The 11th Engineer Battalion had just become part of the brigade back in May. I was floored and glued to the TV. I quickly called my husband and he had just received word himself from the Brigade Commander, who also found out from the local news! Never in a million years when my husband took command back in January did I think his mission would be to deactivate the Battalion BEFORE his two years were up!

In the coming weeks following the announcement we learned that the Battalion would deactivate sometime in December of THIS YEAR! WOW!!! We were not even on Fort Benning a year when the announcement was made. It was all a little hard to believe. I kept thinking Congress would swoop in and make one of their Nth hour "save the day" votes that would keep us here in the 11th. Sadly not. It was happening and I had to stop thinking of myself and start thinking of the Soldiers and Families of the 11th and what they needed to get through this. The first thought I had was "we are all in the same boat" then "we are going down like the Titanic" so, I gathered the Coffee Group and we had a Titanic themed Coffee! We sipped champagne, uttered in disbelief that our ship was sinking, and took our minds of our uncertain futures for the evening.

For the next few months, it was our job to let people know we are in this together. Some very big decisions needed to be made at the Family level and we wanted them to know that this is not a cattle moving operation. Where each Soldier and Family will PCS/ETS/Retire to (or stay at Fort Benning in another unit) will be handled on a case by case basis. We wanted them to know if they are having difficulty, please bring it to our attention. Whether it is getting the movers scheduled, EFMP files updated or dealing with housing or landlords, whatever the case may be, we wanted to know so we can help. We held Battalion town halls, countless company and battalion level FRG meetings and Coffee Group outings (fun ones at that). It's a challenge to hold holiday events when FRGs are winding down but they are still happening. Whether it be a trunk or treat, Pot luck holiday party or a good ole sing your blues away Karaoke night at the local Benning brew pub. It's important to blow off a little steam when you are not sure where you will be in the next 3-6months. I think some of our Soldiers/Families were surprised to learn that even the Battalion Commander and Family doesn't exactly know their future either. Because we are all in the same boat .

11th Engineer Battalion Deactivation

Another task that has not been taken lightly is figuring out where all the Battalion memorabilia and artifacts will be stored. The plaques, artwork, crests, trophies, historic static equipment displays etc. most of which will be trusted to the 3rd Infantry Division Museum at Fort Stewart and other artifacts to the Jungle Cat Association in Columbus, GA. Did you know that Medal of Honor Winner Paul R. Smith was in the 11th? <http://www.army.mil/medalofhonor/smith/> We are currently working with the 3rd Infantry Division Museum and the Smith Family to properly honor where the artifacts commemorating his life will reside.

It's now December and I believe the chain of command has done an outstanding job in taking care of our Jungle Cat Soldiers and Families. We will be saying goodbye to the first round of Jungle Cat Soldiers and Families over the holidays and then another round in the spring just before the Brigade deactivates. As for us? We do have a better idea on where our next adventure will be but I'm not at liberty to announce that yet, as you well know, it's the Army and I need to see that in writing, please. chuckle However, I will say, the Army has taken mercy on us and granted us a second chance at command! We could not be happier unless we were told we were finishing up command here at the 11th. This is the second time we will see the 11th Engineer Battalion colors rolled up, as my husband was in company command when the battalion was deactivated back in 2004. So if history serves us well and repeats itself, I predict the 11th Engineer Battalion will be back when duty calls.

If you are in the Fort Benning Area on December 16th, please join us for the 11th Engineer Battalion Deactivation Ceremony at 0930 at Sledgehammer Field on Kelly Hill. Please RSVP to myself at putnamlp@yahoo.com

Thank you ! Jungle Cats Forward!

This picture is from our November Board Meeting. These Pumpkin Tarts were DELICIOUS!!!. We asked Laurel-Lee States to share her recipe.

(The Recipe refers to a Mini Tart Shaper. I had no idea what that was, so here is a picture. Sold at Pampered Chef, Bed Bath & Beyond, and Wal-Mart)

Spiced Pumpkin Tartlets

1 package of Refrigerated Sugar Cookie Dough (Pillsbury or Nestle Break and Bake, 24 count)

1 can (15 ounces) Solid Packed Pumpkin

8 oz container of Cool Whip, thawed

2 teaspoons Pumpkin Pie Spice

1 package (3.4 ounces) Cheesecake Instant Pudding and Pie Filling

*Preheat oven to 325

1. Cut each of the dough cookies in half and place in a Mini Muffin Pan (spray lightly with Pam with flour or Baker's Joy beforehand).

2. Bake cookies on middle rack of oven for 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven and cool for about 1-2 minutes, then press with Mini Tart Shaper. Remove from pan to cooling rack within 5 minutes.

3. Meanwhile, combine pumpkin, spice, and pudding in bowl. Fold in Cool Whip until all mixed.

4. Using a frosting tip or small spoon, fill shaped cookie cups with mixture.

5. Repeat with remaining dough and mixture.

Keepers of the Castle

This past month, the Keepers of the Castle learned about some of the military working dogs. They are pictured here demonstrating some of their search and rescue skills as well as showing off their bomb sniffing expertise. They followed up this interesting presentation with wreath making. Engineers In Europe

To promote the first Lego League event on 28 December, the Army Engineer Spouses' Group-Europe decorated a Lego-themed tree in support of the Wiesbaden Community Spouses' Club annual tree and wreath auction that supports their scholarship and grant program. All Legos and decorations were donated by spouses and we pooled our decorating talents together at the November Spouses' Coffee to make it happen.

Dollars & Sense

From the Treasurer, Jessica L. Gregris

You may, or may not, have wondered why your bank is sending you new credit and debit cards with what looks to be an embedded computer chip. Well there is a new technical standard called Europay, Mastercard and Visa (EMV) and the intent of EMV is to improve security. The card stores data on the integrated circuit on your card rather than magnetic strips although most cards are still coming with the strips to allow for backwards compatibility. The circuit uses cryptographic algorithms to generate a pin for each purchase which provides authentication of the card. Previously, liability for fraudulent transactions was generally the responsibility of the card issuer. Starting October 1st in the United States American Express, Discover, Mastercard and Visa implemented a liability shift for fraudulent purchases from the card issuer to the merchant in certain cases if they do not use EMV chip-enabled devices to process payment transactions. Although implementation is in effect it is expected that it will take a few years before this new standard is fully adopted within the US.
